

REID AND RIEGE, P.C.
COUNSELLORS AT LAW

Health Care

The attorneys in Reid and Riege's Health Care Practice Area have the depth of experience to advise clients effectively on the full spectrum of legal issues faced in today's fast changing and complex health care marketplace. Our services extend to regulatory and general corporate tax compliance and litigation matters affecting the health care industry.

Our primary focus is the representation of health care providers. The firm counsels a broad array of health care facilities, physicians, delivery systems and other provider organizations. Our attorneys work with providers to address complex questions at both the federal and state levels. We also have significant experience in the development of provider collaborations and alternative health care delivery systems.

Our attorneys also counsel developers, sponsors, underwriters and lenders about the development and construction of health care facilities, including institutional and freestanding facilities providing both acute and long-term care. Lawyers at Reid and Riege have participated in financing, organization and development of hospitals, ambulatory surgical facilities, outpatient health care facilities and life care retirement communities. The firm is experienced in all aspects of the development of such facilities and communities, including: Certificate of Need approvals; licensure and third party payor certification; real estate and zoning issues; construction matters; and financing, including tax-exempt bond financing and credit enhancing instruments.

Attorneys

- Thomas V. Daily
- John M. Horak
- Gregory M. Rada
- Adam Carter Rose
- Mindy S. Tompkins