

REID AND RIEGE, P.C.
COUNSELLORS AT LAW

Litigation & Administrative Proceedings

Lawyers in the Environmental Practice Area represent clients in litigation and administrative proceedings on environmental and land use issues before local, state and federal administrative agencies and state and federal courts. They assist clients in responding to both civil and criminal enforcement actions initiated by regulatory agencies, including actions involving Superfund, RCRA, TSCA and the Clean Water and Air Acts and their state counterparts. They also are involved in private litigation representing businesses, property owners, lenders, estates, individuals and others in a variety of environmental land use matters. The lawyers in the Environmental Practice Area have acted as mediators and arbitrators in state and national environmental dispute resolution proceedings.
