

REID AND RIEGE, P.C.
COUNSELLORS AT LAW

Medical Staff Issues

We frequently assist individual physicians or physician groups that may be in conflict with other members of the medical staff or with the administration of the hospital. This may involve resolving clinical “turf” issues or protecting the client’s basic due process rights. In a recent situation, we convinced a hospital administration that the client’s required investment in time and dollars under its hospital services contract more than justified a first option with respect to the provision of certain services to hospital patients.

Attorneys

- Adam Carter Rose