HARTFORD, Conn. - Reid and Riege, P.C. is proud to announce that it has been named one of the Best Places to Work in Connecticut for 2026, an honor presented by Workforce Research Group in partnership with the Hartford Business Journal.

The Best Places to Work in Connecticut program recognizes organizations that demonstrate excellence in creating positive, engaging, and high-performing workplace cultures. The designation is based primarily on confidential employee survey results that measure satisfaction, engagement, and overall workplace experience.

"Creating a workplace where people feel valued, supported, and motivated to do their best work every day is essential to who we are as a firm," said Tom Kasper, President and Stockholder of Reid & Riege. "This recognition reflects the commitment of our entire team and reinforces our belief that investing in our people strengthens our ability to serve our clients and community."

Organizations selected for the 2026 list have demonstrated strong performance in recruiting, retaining, and engaging employees in a competitive employment landscape. Reid & Riege's inclusion underscores its ongoing focus on collaboration, professional development, and a supportive firm culture.

The rankings of the organizations named to the Best Places to Work in Connecticut 2026 list will be announced at an awards ceremony hosted by the Hartford Business Journal on March 5th 2026. Honorees will also be featured in a special statewide edition of the Hartford Business Journal highlighting this year's award recipients.

"This recognition is not a finish line-it's part of an ongoing process," added Tom Kasper. "We are committed to continually evaluating and improving the employee experience so our firm remains a place where talented professionals can grow and thrive."
